ENVISION LĀ'IE community open house

What is our shared vision for the community?

Tuesday, June 23rd
Cannon Activities Center
@ BYU-Hawai'i
6:00 PM

The results are in!

Aloha! In April, more than a thousand local residents from Ko'olau Loa region came together and shared their visions about a sustainable future for Lā'ie through Envision Lā'ie's public workshops and surveys. Now it's time to share the community's ideas and learn about "What comes next?" Everyone please join us, all are invited!

Key themes that emerged from the workshops will be discussed at the open house:

- Housing
- Jobs
- Public Education
- Sustainability
- Community Design
- Transportation Options

Envision Lā'ie is a process by which Lā'ie and Ko'olau Loa residents, Brigham Young University Hawai'i, the Polynesian Cultural Center, Hawai'i Reserves Inc. and national regional planning experts are working together to study Lā'ie and help plan its future possibilities to become sustainable and preserve and protect our community and the values of the people who live here.
